

Citizen assemblies and deliberative processes for Mission Ocean

Citizen assemblies and deliberative processes for Mission Ocean: Developing and delivering a minipublic within a research project: The Citizens' Assembly on the Next Source of Water for Auckland, New Zealand

NOTE: This webinar is scheduled at 9am CET as we are working with a 12-hour time difference for our facilitators. Although this is early for the Atlantic coast, the recording will be forwarded to all those registered after the session. Please do register if you are interested, even if you may not be able to attend on the day.

At the core of Mission Ocean's citizen engagement targets is a commitment to trialling innovative democratic processes and organize citizen assemblies to engage coastal, riverine, lake and inland sea-dwelling communities in the decisions and activities that affect them. Establishing citizen assemblies for Mission Ocean and creating an EU wide network of such processes is a key upcoming challenge of the Mission. This is reflected in the Mission Implementation Plan and yearly Horizon Europe Work Programme call topics.
