The INDUSAC platform supports collaboration between students, researchers and companies under the Horizon Europe programme to co-create innovative and applicable solutions in four areas: circularity, general sustainability, digitalisation and industry 4.0.

Short-term co-creation projects (4–8 weeks) are funded to address specific challenges of companies, promoting diversity and participation from under-represented countries. Eligible teams must include members from different EU or associated countries, and funding can reach up to EUR 1,000 per student, with a total budget of EUR 900,000 to support 300 projects.
